1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Defendants CSAA INSURANCE EXCHANGE; CARBONE, SMITH & KOYAMA; and 3 MICHAEL R. CHAMBERS hereby jointly submit their Memorandum of Points and Authorities in 4 support of their Motion for Attorneys' Fees pursuant to Code Civ. Proc. § 425.16(c) and this Court's
5 August 6, 2026 Order granting Defendants' Anti-SLAPP motion.

6 Plaintiff's claims all arise from protected litigation conduct and are squarely subject to the Anti-
7 SLAPP statute. In light the Court's granting of Defendants' Anti-SLAPP motion, Defendants now move
8 for their fees incurred in litigating this case.

9 And therefore, Defendants request this Court enter an award, as against Plaintiff, for Plaintiff to 10 pay Defendants' attorney's fees ($39,509.50) and costs ($1,637.41) totaling: $41,146.91.¹

11 II. BRIEF FACTS

12 Plaintiff has filed this "Independent Action in Equity to Set Aside Judgment for Extrinsic Fraud."
13 Plaintiff's allegations focus on Defendants' litigation activity in defending against Plaintiff's underlying 14 personal injury case from 2021. That underlying case was submitted to a jury in April 2025, and the jury 15 rendered a defense verdict.

16 On February 25, 2026, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint ("FAC"). That pleading did not 17 alter the fundamental, and problematic, nature of the allegations, insofar as they continued to target
18 Defendants for engaging in litigation conduct. In short, the FAC targeted Defendants in-court, and out-of-
19 court, statements made while litigating Plaintiff's personal injury claims. Given the nature of the FAC's
20 allegations, on April 9, 2026, Defendants filed with the Court and served on Plaintiff by Certified Mail
21 and courtesy copy via email a copy of Defendants' Special Motion to Strike per Code Civ. Proc. § 425.16
22 ("Anti-SLAPP motion"). (Declaration of Tyler J. O'Connell in Support of Motion for Attorneys' Fees
23 [hereinafter: "O'Connell Decl."], ¶ 2.)

24 ///

25 ///

26 ///

27 ¹ In an earlier submission of this motion, Defendants previously submitted redacted attorneys' fees. In order to aid the 28 Court's analysis of fees incurred in this case, and their recoverability, Defendants have refiled this motion, wherein they now submit nearly entirely unredacted fee invoicing—with the exception of some limited entries that contain information protected by the Attorney-client privilege.

1 Defendants' Anti-SLAPP motion is based on the nature of Plaintiff's allegations as contained in
2 the FAC. Plaintiff's allegations squarely target Defendants' litigation conduct all from Plaintiff's
3 underlying personal injury jury trial—which Plaintiff lost by defense verdict in April 2025. (O'Connell
4 Decl., ¶ 3.)

5 Prior to filing the Anti-SLAPP motion, Defendants' counsel informed Plaintiff in writing, and on 6 multiple phone calls, that Defendants would soon be filing an Anti-SLAPP motion should Plaintiff not
7 withdraw the FAC, in its entirety—as the entirety of the purported legal theories in Plaintiff's FAC focus
8 inextricably on Defendants' protected litigation conduct. (O'Connell Decl., ¶ 4.) Plaintiff refused to 9 withdraw his FAC, in writing and on two meet and confer phone calls. And Defendants' Anti-SLAPP
10 motion was properly filed on April 9, 2026. (O'Connell Decl., ¶ 5.)

11 On May 12, 2026, Defendants' Anti-SLAPP motion came for hearing and the Court granted
12 Defendants' Anti-SLAPP motion, in its entirety. (O'Connell Decl., ¶ 6, Ex. A – Minute Order Granting 13 Anti-SLAPP.) On August 6, 2026, this Court signed the final Order granting Defendants' Anti-SLAPP
14 motion in its entirety. (O'Connell Decl., ¶ 7, Ex. B – final Order Granting Anti-SLAPP.)

15 Defendants had previously attached to Defendants' Reply to Opposition to Anti-SLAPP, a copy
16 of legal invoicing incurred in this matter, for purposes of attorneys' fees recovery. That invoicing, attached
17 to Reply, was limited only to those matters directly related to preparing, meet and confer efforts regarding,
18 drafting, filing, and appearing in Court with respect to Defendants' Anti-SLAPP motion. This created a 19 reduced attorneys' fees amount when compared to the full amounts billed in legal fees on this case.
20 (O'Connell Decl., ¶ 8.)

21 However, and crucially, Plaintiff has continued to litigate this case—after the Anti-SLAPP
22 ruling—by submitting memoranda, briefs, and very lengthy email correspondences and letters in an effort
23 to challenge this Court's May 12, 2026 minute order granting Defendants' Anti-SLAPP motion. Plaintiff
24 has also threatened to file further actions in Contra Costa County, in an effort to circumvent and sidestep
25 this Court's Anti-SLAPP ruling altogether. Therefore, the amount of attorneys' fees requested in this
26 motion also accounts for Plaintiff's post-Anti-SLAPP Order conduct. (O'Connell Decl., ¶ 9.)

27 ///

28 ///

1 After a review and analysis of controlling statutory and case authorities, Defendants now submit a
2 revised legal fees invoicing, which no longer reduces the recoverable attorneys' fees. (O'Connell Decl., ¶
3 10.)

4 Defendants' attorney's fees in this action are invoiced at a billable rate of $210 per hour and 5 counsels spent 190.70 hours litigating this case in its entirety, including preparing Defendants' Anti-
6 SLAPP motion, supporting Declarations, review and analysis of this motion, correspondences with clients
7 and Plaintiff, gathering and marking exhibits, and preparing for and attending hearings on multiple 8 motions. Hence, in total Defendants' attorney's fees expended in this case are: $39,509.50. (O'Connell
9 Decl., ¶ 11, Ex. C.)

10 Defendants' costs incurred for the life of this case, up through August 18, 2026, total $1,637.41.
11 (O'Connell Decl., ¶ 12.)

12 In total, Defendants' attorneys' fees and costs incurred in this matter, from Plaintiff's filing
13 through August 18, 2026, totals $41,146.91

14 III. LEGAL STANDARD & ARGUMENT

15 The California State Legislature has found and determined "that there has been a disturbing
16 increase in lawsuits brought primarily to chill the valid exercise of the constitutional rights of freedom of 17 speech and petition for the redress of grievances. The Legislature finds and declares that it is in the public
18 interest to encourage continued participation in matters of public significance, and that this participation
19 should not be chilled through abuse of the judicial process. To this end, this section shall be construed 20 broadly...

21 (c) a prevailing defendant on a special motion to strike shall be entitled to recover that defendant's 22 attorney's fees and costs."

23 "Attorney fees are mandatory to the prevailing defendant and the amount awarded to a defendant
24 on a successful anti-SLAPP motion is within the discretion of the trial court." (Trapp v. Naiman (2013)
25 218 Cal.App.4th 113, 122.) Further, "trial courts are to use the lodestar method when determining an
26 award of attorney fees under the anti-SLAPP statute. This approach ensures that the trial court's analysis
27 is objective and that the amount awarded is not arbitrary. Under the lodestar method, the trial court
28 tabulates the attorney fee touchstone, or lodestar, by multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended

1 by the reasonable hourly rate prevailing in the community for similar work. (Frym v. 601 Main Street
2 LLC (2022) 82 Cal.App.5th 613, 620-621) (internal quotations omitted.)

3 Indeed Code Civ. Proc. § 425.16(c) does not limit attorneys’ fees recover to only those amounts
4 incurred in preparing and filing the Anti-SLAPP motion. The Code provides for “defendant’s attorney’s
5 fees and costs,” in full. Code Civ. Proc. § 425.16(c). Here, Defendants’ counsel expended a total of 190.70
6 hours—including two (2) additional hours in anticipation of the hearing on this motion—litigating this 7 case, up to August 18, 2026.² Defendants’ counsel’s hourly rate was $210 per hour. This hourly rate is 8 reasonable given the prevailing hourly rate in the San Francisco / Bay Area community.

9 Further, the number of hours is justified, and reasonably expended, given multiple factors. First,
10 Plaintiff’s FAC names multiple parties, and these hours were expended on behalf of the three (3) moving
11 Defendants. Second, Plaintiff’s nearly 30-page FAC contains a wide-ranging series of allegations, which 12 required Defendants’ counsel to peruse an entire underlying Court record, from Plaintiff’s personal injury
13 jury trial. The underlying record was a 4-year long litigation, culminating in a 4-month long jury trial
14 (with multiple continuances and recesses). That underlying record was very lengthy and took considerable 15 time to parse through for evidence in support of the Anti-SLAPP motion. Third, Defendants’ counsel also 16 engaged in extensive meet and confer efforts with Plaintiff in hopes of avoiding incurring these fees,
17 which took additional time. Fourth, Plaintiff made this case more time consuming in multiple ways
18 including through his filing of many, many motions, “Bench Briefs,” “Supplemental Oppositions,” and 19 other filings in violation of the Code and Rules of Court. Plaintiff also served an incredibly lengthy series
20 of discovery requests, correspondences, letters, emails, and even referrals to the State Bar, California
21 Department of Insurance, California DOJ Office of Civil Rights, and other public entities. Plaintiff
22 admitted to using artificial intelligence large language models (aka: chatbots) in drafting all these 23 voluminous and largely frivolous filings and service documents. This created a veritable deluge of paper,
24 upon Defendants’ counsel’s office, seemingly by design, to consume as much of Defendants’ counsel’s
25 time as possible.

26 ///

27 _____
28 ² Long after this Court granted Defendants’ Anti-SLAPP motion, Plaintiff has continued to send harassing email correspondences wherein her threatened further litigation, discovery, and motion practice. Plaintiff’s actions have continued right up to the date of filing this motion.

1 Fifth, and crucially, Plaintiff has continued to litigate this case—after the Anti-SLAPP ruling—by
2 submitting memoranda, briefs, and very lengthy email correspondences and letters in an effort to challenge
3 this Court’s Order granting Defendants’ Anti-SLAPP motion.³ Plaintiff has also threatened to file further
4 actions in Contra Costa County, in an effort to circumvent and sidestep this Court’s Anti-SLAPP ruling
5 altogether. Therefore, the amount of attorneys’ fees requested in this motion also accounts for Plaintiff’s
6 post-Anti-SLAPP Order conduct. Finally, Defendants’ costs are all reasonable and reflective of the filing,
7 service, and mailing costs incurred in this case; therefore, Defendants have also filed a Memorandum of 8 Costs. (O’Connell Decl., ¶ 12.)

9 Defendants are entitled to all attorneys’ fees and costs incurred in litigating this completely
10 meritless case in light of this Court granting Defendants’ Anti-SLAPP motion.

11 IV. CONCLUSION

12 Defendants respectfully request this Court enter an Order awarding Defendants’ their attorneys’
13 fees and costs incurred in litigating this case, as against Plaintiff, which total $41,146.91, in light of this 14 Court’s August 6, 2026 Order granting Defendants’ Anti-SLAPP motion.
