MEMORANDUM OF POINTS AND

1 I. INTRODUCTION

2 Defendant CSAA INSURANCE EXCHANGE hereby submits its Memorandum of Points and
3 Authorities in support of its Motion for Attorneys' Fees pursuant to Code Civ. Proc. § 425.16(c) and this
4 Court's July 1, 2026 Order granting Defendant's Anti-SLAPP motion.

5 Plaintiff's claims all arise from protected litigation conduct and are squarely subject to the Anti-
6 SLAPP statute. In light the Court's granting of Defendant's Anti-SLAPP motion, Defendant now moves
7 for fees and costs incurred in litigating this case.

8 And therefore, Defendant requests this Court enter an award, as against Plaintiff, for Plaintiff to 9 pay Defendant's attorneys' fees ($37,038.50) and costs ($2,353.62) totaling: $39,392.12.¹

10 II. BRIEF FACTS

11 Plaintiff's allegations in the pleadings improperly focus on Defendant's litigation activity in 12 defending against Plaintiff's underlying personal injury case from 2021. That underlying case was 13 submitted to a jury in April 2025, and the jury rendered a defense verdict.

14 On February 25, 2026, Plaintiff filed a First Amended Complaint ("FAC"). That pleading did not
15 alter the fundamental, and problematic, nature of the allegations, insofar as they continued to target
16 Defendant for engaging in litigation conduct. In short, the FAC targeted Defendant for its litigation
17 conduct while litigating Plaintiff's personal injury claims.

18 Given the nature of the FAC's allegations, on April 9, 2026, Defendant filed with the Court and 19 served on Plaintiff by Certified Mail and courtesy copy via email a copy of Defendant's Special Motion 20 to Strike per Code Civ. Proc. § 425.16 ("Anti-SLAPP motion"). (Declaration of Tyler J. O'Connell in 21 Support of Motion for Attorneys' Fees [hereinafter: "O'Connell Decl."], ¶ 2.) Defendant's Anti-SLAPP
22 motion is based on the nature of Plaintiff's allegations as contained in the FAC. Plaintiff's allegations
23 squarely target Defendant's litigation conduct all from Plaintiff's underlying personal injury jury trial—
24 which Plaintiff lost by defense verdict in April 2025. (O'Connell Decl.], ¶ 3.)

25 ///

26
27 ¹ In an earlier submission of this motion, Defendants previously submitted redacted attorneys' fees. In order to aid the 28 Court's analysis of fees incurred in this case, and their recoverability, Defendants have refiled this motion, wherein they now submit nearly entirely unredacted fee invoicing—with the exception of some limited entries that contain information protected by the Attorney-client privilege.

1 Prior to filing the Anti-SLAPP motion, Defendant’s counsel informed Plaintiff in writing, and on
2 multiple phone calls, that Defendant would soon be filing an Anti-SLAPP motion should Plaintiff not
3 withdraw the FAC, in its entirety—as the entirety of the purported legal theories in Plaintiff’s FAC focus
4 inextricably on Defendant’s protected litigation conduct. (O’Connell Decl.], ¶ 4.) Plaintiff refused to 5 withdraw his FAC, in writing and on two meet and confer phone calls. And Defendant’s Anti-SLAPP
6 motion was properly filed on April 9, 2026. (O’Connell Decl.], ¶ 5.)

7 On June 24, 2026, Defendant’s Anti-SLAPP motion came for hearing and the Court granted
8 Defendant’s Anti-SLAPP motion, in its entirety, thereafter on July 1, 2026. (O’Connell Decl.], ¶ 6, Ex. A
9 – Minute Order on Anti-SLAPP.)

10 Defendant had previously attached to Defendant’s Reply to Opposition to Anti-SLAPP, a copy of 11 legal invoicing incurred in this matter, for purposes of attorneys’ fees recovery. That invoicing, attached
12 to Reply, was limited only to those matters directly related to preparing, meet and confer efforts regarding,
13 drafting, filing, and appearing in Court with respect to Defendant’s Anti-SLAPP motion. This created a 14 reduced attorneys’ fees amount when compared to the full amounts billed in legal fees on this case.
15 (O’Connell Decl.], ¶ 7.)

16 However, after a review and analysis of controlling statutory and case authorities, Defendant now
17 submits a revised legal fees invoicing, which no longer reduces the recoverable attorneys’ fees. (O’Connell
18 Decl.], ¶ 8.) Defendant’s attorney’s fees in this action are invoiced at a billable rate of $210 per hour and 19 counsels (and staff) spent 198.00 hours litigating this case in its entirety, including preparing Defendant’s
20 Anti-SLAPP motion, supporting Declarations, review and analysis of this motion, correspondences with 21 clients and Plaintiff, gathering and marking exhibits, and preparing for and attending hearings on multiple 22 motions. Hence, in total Defendant’s attorneys’ fees ($37,038.50) and costs ($2,353.62) expended in this
23 case are: $39,392.12. (O’Connell Decl.], ¶ 9-11, Exs. B-C.)

24 III. LEGAL STANDARD

25 The California State Legislature has found and determined “that there has been a disturbing
26 increase in lawsuits brought primarily to chill the valid exercise of the constitutional rights of freedom of 27 speech and petition for the redress of grievances. The Legislature finds and declares that it is in the public
28 interest to encourage continued participation in matters of public significance, and that this participation

1 should not be chilled through abuse of the judicial process. To this end, this section shall be construed
2 broadly...

3 (c) a prevailing defendant on a special motion to strike shall be entitled to recover that Defendant's
4 attorney's fees and costs."

5 "Attorney fees are mandatory to the prevailing defendant and the amount awarded to a defendant
6 on a successful anti-SLAPP motion is within the discretion of the trial court." (Trapp v. Naiman (2013)
7 218 Cal.App.4th 113, 122.) Further, "trial courts are to use the lodestar method when determining an 8 award of attorney fees under the anti-SLAPP statute. This approach ensures that the trial court's analysis
9 is objective and that the amount awarded is not arbitrary. Under the lodestar method, the trial court
10 tabulates the attorney fee touchstone, or lodestar, by multiplying the number of hours reasonably expended
11 by the reasonable hourly rate prevailing in the community for similar work. (Frym v. 601 Main Street
12 LLC (2022) 82 Cal.App.5th 613, 620-621) (internal quotations omitted.)

13 Indeed Code Civ. Proc. § 425.16(c) does not limit attorneys' fees recover to only those amounts
14 incurred in preparing and filing the Anti-SLAPP motion. The Code provides for "Defendant's attorney's 15 fees and costs," in full. Code Civ. Proc. § 425.16(c).

16 Here, Defendant's counsels and billable staff spend a total of 198.00 hours litigating this case.
17 Defendant's counsel's hourly rate was $210 per hour. This hourly rate is reasonable given the prevailing
18 hourly rate in the San Francisco / Bay Area community, where this action was filed.

19 Further, the number of hours is justified, and reasonably expended, given multiple factors. First,
20 Plaintiff's nearly 30-page FAC contains a wide-ranging series of allegations, which required Defendant's
21 counsel to peruse an entire underlying Court record, from Plaintiff's personal injury jury trial. The 22 underlying record was a 4-year long litigation, culminating in a 4-month long jury trial (with multiple 23 continuances and recesses). That underlying record was very lengthy and took considerable time to parse
24 through for evidence in support of the Anti-SLAPP motion. Second, Defendant's counsel also engaged in 25 extensive meet and confer efforts with Plaintiff in hopes of avoiding incurring these fees, which took 26 additional time. Third, Plaintiff made this case more time consuming in multiple ways including through 27 his filing of many, many motions, "Bench Briefs," "Supplemental Oppositions," and other filings in 28 violation of the Code and Rules of Court. Plaintiff also served an incredibly lengthy series of discovery

1 requests, correspondences, letters, emails, and even referrals to the State Bar, California Department of 2 Insurance, California DOJ Office of Civil Rights, and other public entities. Plaintiff admitted to using 3 artificial intelligence large language models (aka: chatbots) in drafting all these items. This created a
4 veritable deluge of paper, upon Defendant's counsel's office, seemingly by design to consume as much
5 of Defendant's counsel's time as possible.

6 Finally, Defendant's costs are all reasonable and reflective of the filing, service, and mailing costs
7 incurred in this case up to the date of this motion.

8 Defendant is entitled to all attorneys' fees ($37,038.50) and costs ($2,353.62) incurred in litigating
9 this completely meritless case, culminating in the July 1, 2026 ruling by this Court granting the Anti-
10 SLAPP motion.² Those fees and costs together total $39,392.12.

11 IV. CONCLUSION

12 Defendant respectfully requests this Court grant Defendant's its attorneys' fees and costs incurred 13 in litigating this case, which total $39,392.12.

28 ² It bears mention that Plaintiff has continued to engage in his AI-drafted deluge of paper upon Defendant's counsel's office—long after the July 1, 2026 hearing, and right up to the date of filing this motion—in a misguided effort to harass Defendant's counsel given Defendant's victory on the Anti-SLAPP motion.
